

Boro Park Rallies Hit Nazi Atrocities

Approximately 2,000 persons attended three Zionist mass meetings held yesterday in Borough Park to discuss the atrocities in Germany and the report of the Greater Action Committee now meeting in London. The meetings were under the auspices of the Borough Park Zionist organization.

Municipal Court Justice Nathan Sweedler, president of the Brooklyn Zionist Region, and Samuel J. Borowsky, president of the Borough Park organization, spoke at all three rallies.

Speaking at the Congregation B'Nai Judah, 16th Ave. and 53d St., were Rabbi Zvi H. Masliansky, 83-year-old Zionist orator and reader, and Samuel Fishman, chairman.

At the Beth Israel Synagogue, 11th Ave. and 56th St., Rabbi Abraham Neustein of the synagogue, Dr. David Tannenbaum, president; Rabbi Israel Schorr of the Temple Beth-El of Borough Park, and J. I. Rudavsky, chairman, were the speakers.

Sol Friedland, Julius G. Felt and Bernard Charney, chairman, spoke at the rally held at the Linas Hatzedek Congregation, Clara St. and Chester Ave.
