

SUBSCRIBE

LOGIN

REGISTER

Home | News | Local | Sports | Opinion | A&amp;E | Life | Business | Contact Us

NEWSLETTERS

Name the judges

AUG 4, 2024

5:30 AM

Amy Neustein and Michelle Etlin (“One group of mothers who need Kamala Harris’s help — and will give her their votes,” July 31), kudos to you for bringing to light the many missteps, failures, and outright biases that many judges display in support of fathers having equal rights with their child custody.

What if, just what if, when a child ends up dead at the hands of a father, the trial judge is named and placed front and center in the article describing that poor child’s death? In Pennsylvania, domestic violence cases are typically heard by magisterial district judges who are voted for, not appointed.

Do you think the public might remember that judge’s name when they go to the polls?

Susan Galvin

Washington, Pa.

First Published: August 4, 2024, 5:30 a.m.